

Weed Instrument Now A Rockwell Automation “Encompass Asia Pacific” Partner

Weed Instrument, the world’s largest supplier of Industrial Fiber Optic Converters and Ethernet Switches for process automation, has been accepted as an “Encompass Asia Pacific” Partner of Rockwell Automation.

The Encompass Program is a product referencing program designed to identify, qualify, and jointly market third-party manufactured products that complement the breadth of world-class products developed by Rockwell Automation. Information on the Encompass program is available on the Web at www.rockwellautomation.com/encompass.

Weed Instrument has been an Encompass Americas Partner for many years. Acceptance into the Encompass Asia Pacific program will now allow Weed Instrument to offer its extensive line of Fiber Optic Converters, Managed & Unmanaged Ethernet Switches and Temperature Transmitters to Rockwell Automation customers, distributors, system integrators and original equipment manufacturers throughout the Asia Pacific region.
